

Case Study: 3D Sketching & Animation.

Location: Various Clients.

Summary

Our architectural team use a computer design package called 'Sketch Up' and can produce very cost effective, quick 3-dimensional imaging and animations for proposed developments. This service also has the ability to import photographic background images to enable an easier understanding of the site context and produce a more realistic visualization.

