

Case Study: Conceptual Studies.

Location: Grangemouth.

Brief

During the early development of a new Operational & Control Centre for BP FPS in Grangemouth, IKM were asked to prepare a number of conceptual studies for the building, starting with building 'zoning' diagrams and developing into hand sketched images of the building interior. These were prepared in order to help the end-users visualise what their building may look like at an early stage in the process, encouraging discussion and suggestions.
